

What do the customers say?

"Per has been our IT consultant and supporter for the past 6 years. In connection with a major office relocation, he did a really good job in reinstalling our network, copy machine, computers and server. Per's knowledge of IT is comprehensive and he is quick to come up with new solutions. He is dependable, service-minded, easy-going and pleasant to work with. We always feel we are in good and competent hands when he takes on an assignment for us".

"Per has provided IT solutions and services for our customers for many years. Per achieves his results independently and always focuses on the needs of the clients. His assignments have included the setting up of, and installing, routers, VPN-solutions, networks, computers, printers, copy machines, servers etc. He is proficient in Novell and Microsoft Small Business Servers and other Microsoft operating systems, and he has installed terminal servers and IP phones for our accountant customers. Per has an extensive knowledge of IT, and he has always provided intelligent and practical solutions to the satisfaction of our customers".

"I have used Per for various IT services over the last couple of years. I know very little about IT, and it has been a tremendous help to have things explained in a non-technical language and still be confident that things have been handled efficiently".

Anne Jacobsen, Erhvervspsykologisk Rådgivning ApS

"Per's assistance has always been very competent. As a small company that provides courses and seminars, we find it a relief to have nydata.dk as an IT partner, because our IT equipment simply has to work. When working on an assignment, Per is very reliable, efficient and particular, and he has an easy-going, attentive and pleasant personality".
